

092118 Response to Buchanan's Has Russia Given Up on the West?

Once again Pat gets it right. To what just cause would we go to war with Russia and its equally militarily strong ally, China. But who will listen to Pat? Sad the majority of common sense in our country resides in the old and they read Pat Buchanan. I am one of those. Withstanding my age, for a truly just cause, I would gladly put on my old Army uniform and stand at attention awaiting my commander-in-chief's orders. Unfortunately it will not be me they will call because I won't go. For I recognize what Pat has accurately articulated is a no win strategy for a non-just cause. But once again it will be our flowering, public school educated, youth that will die for this unjust cause. And I doubt very many of them Read Buchanan. But they should.
